This publication, Financial Management Support in Joint Operations (Joint Publication 1-060, provides doctrine for financial management in support of joint operations, to include multinational and interagency financial coordination considerations. Financial management (FM) complements combat power, supports strategic and operational reach, and enables endurance. Every mission requires a variety of funding sources and authorities. In addition, financial managers may provide decision support and funds control while executing the joint acquisition process with US and foreign currency. FM supports accomplishment of the joint force commander s (JFC s) mission by providing two different, but mutually supporting, core functions: resource management (RM) and finance support. RM includes providing advice and recommendations to the commander; developing command resource requirements; identifying sources of funds; determining costs; acquiring funds; distributing and controlling funds; tracking costs and obligations; capturing costs; establishing reimbursement procedures; and establishing management internal controls. Finance support includes providing financial advice and recommendations; supporting the procurement process; providing limited pay support; and providing disbursing support. The executive agent (EA) for FM normally will fund multi-Service contract costs, unique joint...
