General Accounting Office, 2002 OCLC Number: (OCLOC)53172258 Subject: Community development -- California -- Los Angeles. Excerpt: . . . Grantees Request Permanent Exemption In response to the 1998 request for nexus reports, the city and county submitted their reports to HUD in the spring of 2000. In these reports, the city and county requested that their 25 percent public service cap exemption become permanent. Both reports suggested that the underlying general causes of civil unrest still affected many of their communities. The city based its request on its need to support long-term self-sufficiency programs, especially in the neighborhoods affected by the civil unrest, and on the increasing demand for human services. The county stressed that it had been difficult to engage in broad, long-range planning regarding the use of the additional 10 percent allocation for public services when it had been repeatedly unclear in recent years that the exemption would be extended. City and county officials indicated that the general causes of civil unrest - such as unemployment, inadequate housing, and lack of education - continued to the present. Legislative advocates for both the City and the County of Los Angeles indicated in May 2002 that both grantees were continuing their efforts to obtain a permanent exemption from Congress. Conclusions As HUD suggested in 1999, developing plans to reduce spending from the 25 percent cap would smooth the transition to the lower, 15 percent cap in the event that the exemption is not extended. More specifically, developing and approving transition plans would (1) give the public agencies and subrecipients time to prioritize spending and explore alternative funding sources and (2) notify the public of potential...
